Course Description

This 4-week study abroad program will examine the natural history and resource conservation of New Zealand's South Island through field experiences, seminars, presentations, and student projects. New Zealand's isolation as a series of islands after its separation millions of years ago from the ancient Gondwanaland, has meant that it has developed a unique natural heritage. Plants and animals have evolved which are unknown elsewhere in the rest of the world. Our program will focus on the conservation and management of these natural, as well as cultural, resources through a 2-week field trip, presentations and seminars at the University of Canterbury (in Christchurch), and daily field activities.

Prerequisites

Students in good academic standing at the University of Georgia will be eligible to take the course. Students in good standing from other institutions may participate, as long as they have been accepted and are registered by the University of Georgia for summer school. The instructor must approve all participants.

Required Reading

Reading packet from Bel-Jean copy center, 163 East Broad Street, Athens, GA 30601; Tel: 706-548-3648. (Will not be available in New Zealand.)

Registration (UGA Students)

Phase 1A pre-registration for the NZ Maymester program is April 4 – May 2, 2003. The NZ program is POD so you will need to be cleared by your adviser. You can register under one of four prefixes: ANTH, FORS, GEOG, or RLST and either undergraduate (4271) or graduate (6271). Please try to register on OASIS first (as you may already have been cleared), before contacting the respective academic advisor. To register as:

ANTH4271 (call # 50-161), Labau Bryan, Anthropology (542-1479)
 ANTH6271 (call # 12-795), Labau Bryan, Anthropology (542-1479)
 FORS4271 (call # 10-156), Matthew Head, Forest Resources (542-1133)
 FORS6271 (call # 32-796), Rosemary Wood, Forest Resources (542-1183)
 GEOG4271 (call # 32-717), Thomas Mote, Geography (542-2906)
 GEOG6271 (call # 52-797), Elgene Box, Geography (542-2369)
 RLST4271 (call # 70-162), Brenda Arnold, Recreation and Leisure Studies (542-5064)
 RLST 6271 (call # 72-798), Brenda Arnold, Recreation and Leisure Studies (542-5064)

Please note that you must register for the NZ Study Abroad course under REGT (not as a UGA campus course). Tuition should be paid to Banking and Finance, just as if you were paying for on-campus classes, for 6 semester hours. You can pay using one of the following payment methods: financial aid (including HOPE), credit card, or cash/ check. Both the financial aid and credit card payments can be completed on the computer in the OASIS registration system (be sure to register for 6 hours as a REGT course).

Non-UGA students must submit (to the program director) a completed UGA application form (available on http://www1.admissions.uga.edu/app\_info/transfer/definitions.html). Indicate on the top of the application form that you will be attending the Maymester NZ study abroad program. On the form, check “summer transient” and turn in a letter of good standing along with a check (payable to UGA) for $125.

Course objectives

Specific objectives will include:

1. To understand the natural and cultural history and ecological diversity within the network of national parks, reserves, offshore islands and coastal areas of NZ South Island;
2. To develop a working knowledge of integrated natural resource management and conservation actions throughout NZ South Island;
3. To gain an appreciation for the value of natural resources conservation and preservation. Representatives from the NZ Department of Conservation and faculty from the University of Canterbury will also be providing instruction.

Course requirements

1. Participate in all field experiences, lectures/ discussions, projects, and general activities. Graduate students will be required to demonstrate a greater level of participation than undergraduates in order to achieve the same grade for this objective.
2. A mid-term exam and a final exam.
3. One group report and presentation on a selected resource conservation and management issue.
4. One group environmental interpretation brochure for a selected trail in Queenstown.
5. Graduate students will be required to submit an individual report on a selected topic. The report will be graded on a pass/ fail basis.

Course grading

10 points	On-site student participation
25 points	Mid-term exam
25 points	Final exam
25 points	Group report and presentation
15 points	Environmental interpretation brochure
A	89.5 - 100 points
B	79.5 - 89.4 points
C	69.5 - 79.4 points
D	59.5 - 69.4 points
F	below 59.4 points

In addition to the extra report, graduate credit for the course requires that the quality of the presentations, written exam material, and project assignments will be of a higher quality than at the undergraduate level. Accordingly, written material and project assignments will receive more rigorous grading than at the undergraduate level.

University honor code

The University of Georgia seeks to promote and ensure academic honesty and personal integrity among students and other members of the University Community. A policy on academic honesty has been developed to serve these goals. All members of the academic community are responsible for knowing the policy and procedures on academic honesty. (The UGA web-site on academic honesty can be found at: <http://www.uga.edu/vpaa/polproc/ahpol/main.html>). All academic work must meet the standards contained in "A Culture of Honesty." Each student is responsible to inform themselves about those standards before performing any academic work.

Accommodations and transportation

Accommodation will be a combination of hostel/ backpacker and multi-share (separate male and female facilities). Ground transportation will be a combination of luxury coach (for the 2-week field trip through the South Island) and 12-seater minivans (for local transportation around Christchurch). All breakfasts and dinners (except on free days) will be provided.

Itinerary

The first 10-11 days will be spent in Christchurch and the surrounding community. Seminars and presentations will be given on the campus of the University of Canterbury (UC). E-mail facilities and computer resources will be available at UC, but there will be limited availability to these services during the field programs. There will also be several one-day field trips (from Christchurch) involving some limited hiking. The following two weeks will be an extended field survey of the South Island including some backcountry and glacial hiking, visits (by boat) to off-shore islands, and wildlife interactions (e.g., whale-watching, fur seal sanctuaries). Students will meet with field staff at each location for presentations on geology, wildlife management, forest management, recreation and tourism management, ecology, watershed management, etc. Due to the remoteness of some of the settings, there may only be limited access to emergency services and public telephones at certain times during the field survey. The course syllabus is a general plan for the course; deviations announced to the class by the instructor may be necessary.

Medical insurance and health

Health care is provided under a socialized medical plan in New Zealand. As part of the program fee, each student will be covered with the supplemental UGA study abroad insurance (contact T.W. Lord & Associates at 1-800-633-2360 within the USA or 770-427-2461 from outside the USA). This insurance is supplemental to any regular personal medical insurance (see brochure) and can be extended by contacting the insurance company directly. Please review the brochure and arrange for appropriate health insurance before leaving the U.S. it is also wise to get a medical and dental check-up prior to departing for the program.

Students who identified pre-existing health conditions, health concerns, medications, disabilities, etc on their health form must make an appointment to meet with the instructor before April 7, 2002. According to the UGA Travel Medical Clinic, no vaccinations (other than those required to live in the United States) are required for travel in New Zealand. However, the Center for Disease Control has previously recommended Hepatitis A for anyone traveling outside of the U.S.

Mental health and counseling services are available for students studying abroad through the University of Georgia health center. Telephone contacts:

Safety

We will be staying in a combination of hostels, backpackers, university lodgings, and bed and breakfasts. Please avoid bringing any valuables (e.g., jewelry, large amounts of cash, etc); when necessary, consider storing in hotel/ hostel safe boxes. A money belt is often a good idea. Be aware of general safety concerns while traveling and ensure safe handling of money, purses, wallets, backpacks, etc at all times. A personal safety guide for women is available through the UGA police department (542-2200) and female students are encouraged to review the guide.

Public safety emergency number at UGA: 706-542-2200

Public safety non-emergency number at UGA: 706-542-5813

Please review the State Department Consular information packet provided to you for crime, safety, political issues, and any travel warnings in New Zealand. High crime areas and the risks of overindulgence with alcohol, swimming hazards, night travel, etc. exist in places all over the world. However, remember that you are in a foreign country and the same rules and regulations existing in the USA may not also apply to NZ.

Disability services

Any student(s) who require special accommodation(s) or other requirements in this course must see the instructor on or by April 6, 2003 and register with Learning Disability Services (Milledge Hall) and/or Disability Services (Clark Howell Hall) on UGA Campus.

Conduct regulations

1. During the field studies, no student is to leave the group without the consent of the faculty supervisor.
2. Punctual attendance at all field and on-campus meetings is required.
3. Students are responsible for following all UGA Conduct Regulations during the time abroad (<http://www.uga.edu/vpaa/polproc/aapm/facilit/general/50104.html>). The Conduct Regulations “prohibits possession for consumption of alcoholic beverages by those under the legal drinking age and prohibits making alcoholic beverages available to persons under the legal drinking age...[specifically] (1) Alcohol and other drug related misbehavior is at any time prohibited. (2) No student shall furnish or cause to be furnished any alcoholic beverage to any person under the legal drinking age. (3) No student shall furnish or cause to be furnished any alcoholic beverage to any person in a state of noticeable intoxication. (4) No student under the legal drinking age shall possess any alcoholic beverage at functions sponsored by the University or any registered University organization. (5) The unlawful possession or the use of drugs and/ or making such drugs available to other persons by students is prohibited” (p.23-24). Non-compliance with any of these and other UGA Conduct Regulations shall result in the dismissal of the student from the Study Abroad Program.

Other

1. Please review the OIE pre-departure orientation web-site at <http://www.uga.edu/oie/orientation> for other information useful in the preparation and participation of the New Zealand Study Abroad Program.
2. Keep a copy of all your medical, insurance, money (e.g., travelers checks), and Study Abroad Program documents (including this syllabus) at home in the USA (with a responsible individual) and bring one copy with you.
3. Information on study abroad scholarships is available in the OIE Study Abroad library in 203F Barrow Hall or from the OIE web-site at <http://www.uga.edu/oie/studyabroad.htm> Other student financial aid information is available from the Office of Student Financial Aid (542-3476).
4. Please provide your parents/ spouse/ guardians a copy of the following letter from OIE (<http://www.uga.edu/oie/frforms.htm>)
